“ As a patent attorney, I always had trouble getting the client on the same page as I was – literally and figuratively. I always needed an easy way to search USPTO records efficiently. I also struggled to manage and then reuse the documents I found while still being able to communicate them to my clients. We designed Patdek with this in mind.

Put the USPTO in Your Pocket

Find • Markup • Share

The United States Patent and Trademark Office has hundreds of millions of documents, spread across half a dozen disparate systems.

That's 3 billion pages of information, any of which could potentially affect your client.

Patdek is the smart way for patent law professionals to find, markup, and share information. Using Patdek's software platform, you can:

- Find all of the research you need to formulate advice and counsel
- Extract the relevant details, while keeping the full context at hand
- Deliver it to clients for easy review

We've consolidated all available patent-related information into a single, searchable platform. We've combined streamlined document access with the tools you need to manage those documents, share them with clients, and provide the advice and counsel they need to make informed decisions.

Patdek automatically captures what was important in a document, so you can find it again; tracks who you shared it with; stores how that document relates to every other USPTO document – and presents it all in one simple interface.

And because it fits right in with what you already do, Patdek is the easy upgrade that will set your patent law practice apart.

Highlight and Share in Seconds

Turn research into actionable information with Patdek's unique markup and share functions. Document management is built in, so you can focus on what's important. Your client.
